

LINDA ELLIS EASTMAN

Linda Ellis Eastman, CEO and Founder of The Professional Woman Network (PWN) and Professional Woman Publishing, LLC, is an international author, highly recognized keynote speaker, and international coach on women's issues.

Ms. Ellis Eastman, regarded as one of the top speakers and workshop facilitators globally, has touched the lives of over 100,000 women from twenty three countries and is a leading expert on women's issues. As author of "Starting Over: Learning to Love Yourself," her keynote presentation based upon this best-selling book receives consistently the highest evaluations.

Keynote and Workshop Topics:

- Starting Over: Learning to Love Yourself
- Transformation: Reinventing Yourself from Within
- Learning to Be Your Own Best Friend
- Creating a Blueprint for Inner Change
- Breaking Free: Overcoming Self-Sabotage

Professional Spotlight

Linda Ellis Eastman has certified and trained over 4,000 women to start consulting/seminar businesses originating from such countries as Zimbabwe, the U.K., South Africa, France, Kenya, Mexico, Costa Rica, Pakistan, Malaysia, Canada, and the U.S.A.

Ms. Ellis Eastman has been featured in USA Today and listed in Who's Who of American Women and Who's Who of International Leaders. Her company is dedicated to educating women on a global basis regarding self-esteem, confidence building, stress management, and emotional, physical and mental wellness. Linda Ellis Eastman is committed to increasing the personal dignity and self-worth of women globally.

Linda Ellis Eastman. P.O. Box 333. Prospect, KY 40059 502.566.9900

Email: lindaeastman@prodigy.net Website: www.protrain.net